Educational Psychology Resouces

DEVELOPMENTAL DIFFERENCE

- Our emphasis is on professional development and peer supervision and we offer a variety of specialist interest areas where groups of colleagues come together to develop their skills.
- At One Education we have a Special Interest Group (SIG) of colleagues who have particular interest in “developmental difference”, where children’s development veers away from the typical.

This umbrella term includes a number of conditions such as:

- Autism spectrum, developmental coordination disorder, attention deficit disorders, specific language impairments and selective mutism.
- The SIG meets regularly to maintain our knowledge and develop our ‘in-house’ resources, ensuring that One Education educational psychologists have cutting-edge knowledge and understanding of conditions and how to support schools in managing them.
