

Reflect

How do you want the reader to feel when they read this?

Why?

Write like an author:

- *Make simple additions and proof-reading corrections of their own.
- *Select vocabulary and grammatical structures that reflect what the writing requires.
- *Assess effectiveness of own and others' writing.
- *Select appropriate grammar and vocabulary to enhance meaning.

Respond

The reader should feel... because.

I have tried to make the reader feel... by using...

How to respond:

- Refer to the writing goals and RAFT
- Refer to the success criteria and models you have learnt from
- Consider the needs of the audience
- Explain your language choices

Reflect

How have you used language to help the reader understand the content?

Write like an author:

- *Make simple additions and proof-reading corrections of their own.
- *Select vocabulary and grammatical structures that reflect what the writing requires.
- *Assess effectiveness of own and others' writing.
- *Select appropriate grammar and vocabulary to enhance meaning.

Respond

I used ... which helps the reader understand/visualise...
e.g. metaphor, technical words
glossary, characterisation

How to respond:

- Refer to the writing goals and RAFT
- Refer to the success criteria and models you have learnt from
- Consider the needs of the audience
- Explain your language choices

Reflect

How have you organised the structure of your writing for impact?

Write like an author:

- *Make simple additions and proof-reading corrections of their own.
- *Select vocabulary and grammatical structures that reflect what the writing requires.
- *Assess effectiveness of own and others' writing.
- *Select appropriate grammar and vocabulary to enhance meaning.

Respond

I used ... which helps the reader
I included ... which helps the reader know/understand...

How to respond:

- Refer to the writing goals and RAFT
- Refer to the success criteria and models you have learnt from
- Consider the needs of the audience
- Explain your language choices

Reflect

Which sentence or paragraph is the most effective or important and why?

Write like an author:

- *Make simple additions and proof-reading corrections of their own.
- *Select vocabulary and grammatical structures that reflect what the writing requires.
- *Assess effectiveness of own and others' writing.
- *Select appropriate grammar and vocabulary to enhance meaning.

Respond

... creates impact because...
This section is important so the reader...

How to respond:

- Refer to the writing goals and RAFT
- Refer to the success criteria and models you have learnt from
- Consider the needs of the audience
- Explain your language choices

Reflect

Which words have you used on purpose to have an impact on the reader and why?

Write like an author:

- *Make simple additions and proof-reading corrections of their own.
- *Select vocabulary and grammatical structures that reflect what the writing requires.
- *Assess effectiveness of own and others' writing.
- *Select appropriate grammar and vocabulary to enhance meaning.

Respond

I chose to use ... because it makes the reader think/feel...
... describes ... so that the reader knows...

How to respond:

- Refer to the writing goals and RAFT
- Refer to the success criteria and models you have learnt from
- Consider the needs of the audience
- Explain your language choices

Reflect

How have you varied your words or used synonyms to make your writing more cohesive?

Write like an author:

- *Make simple additions and proof-reading corrections of their own.
- *Select vocabulary and grammatical structures that reflect what the writing requires.
- *Assess effectiveness of own and others' writing.
- *Select appropriate grammar and vocabulary to enhance meaning.

Respond

... creates variation because...
I used the word instead of ... because...

How to respond:

- Refer to the writing goals and RAFT
- Refer to the success criteria and models you have learnt from
- Consider the needs of the audience
- Explain your language choices

Reflect

Where did you get your ideas from for this piece of writing?

Write like an author:

- *Make simple additions and proof-reading corrections of their own.
- *Select vocabulary and grammatical structures that reflect what the writing requires.
- *Assess effectiveness of own and others' writing.
- *Select appropriate grammar and vocabulary to enhance meaning.

Respond

I was influenced by the book/film/story/text...

I borrowed ideas from ...

How to respond:

- Refer to the writing goals and RAFT
- Refer to the success criteria and models you have learnt from
- Consider the needs of the audience
- Explain your language choices

Reflect

What choices have you made as an author to make your reader stay interested?

Write like an author:

- *Make simple additions and proof-reading corrections of their own.
- *Select vocabulary and grammatical structures that reflect what the writing requires.
- *Assess effectiveness of own and others' writing.
- *Select appropriate grammar and vocabulary to enhance meaning.

Respond

I have made the reader want to continue by...

I decided to ... because I thought the reader would...

How to respond:

- Refer to the writing goals and RAFT
- Refer to the success criteria and models you have learnt from
- Consider the needs of the audience
- Explain your language choices